HUMAN RIGHTS
Day

The Human Relations Commission in collaboration with Keystone House will host the Annual International Human Rights Day
Tuesday, December 12th, 2017
Norwalk City Hall, Community Rm
6:00PM – 8:00PM

This year's International Human Rights Day event will focus on mental illness which affects many families. Addressing this issue is vital to promoting the health of communities.

We invite you to join our panelists, Katie Mattias of the National Alliance on Mental Illness (NAMI), Kathy Flaherty of the CT Legal Rights Project and Keystone House, in a community conversation to help lift the silence and raise awareness about mental health.

Sponsored by the Human Relations Commission of the City of Norwalk and Keystone House
