2019 Beneficiaries

Domestic Violence Crisis Center of Norwalk (DVCC), a 501(c)3 nonprofit organization, provides services to adults and children. DVCC’s professional staff of counselors gives crisis intervention, safety planning, individual and group counseling in both English and Spanish to anyone who may be experiencing domestic abuse. The organization touches everyone, regardless of age, gender, race, culture, religion, sexual identity and socio-economic level or educational attainment. Their mission is to rebuild self-esteem and self-confidence, and help empower them to move toward a more independent existence. Domestic Violence Crisis Center has two locations - Norwalk and Stamford, CT.

Literacy Volunteers, a program of the Norwalk Public Library Foundation, a 501(c)3 nonprofit organization, teaches adults to read, write, speak and understand English so that they may achieve their personal, educational, employment and civic goals. Monthly, they serve approximately 450 students who hail from over thirty countries. Some students are well educated and others have had little access to education; however, all share the same goals of wanting to improve their English to better their lives and become better advocates for themselves and their families.
